

SCRIPT FOR INTRODUCING A GIRLS FIGHT BACK SPEAKER:

For over 20 years, Girls Fight Back has been empowering millions of women in colleges and other organizations across the country to be their own best protectors in combating violence and living a confident life! Today you will be learning the valuable violence prevention tools that have been talked about on the Nike Trained Podcast, Women's Health Magazine, CBS Early Show and CNN as well as in The New York Times, Runners World and Cosmopolitan.

Today our speaker is _____. She is a certified Girls Fight Back Speaker & Self-Defense Instructor and has studied dating violence, domestic violence, sexual assault, stalking situations and campus security. She is a Victim Advocate and is a graduate of the Girls Fight Back Academy. She has extensive training in full-contact physical self-defense, ground fighting and weapons defense.

In other words, this girl can kick some ass!

There are representatives from _____ here who are victim advocates and available to speak with anyone during or after the program if you need.

Please silence your phones, but feel free to join the conversation live on Instagram, Facebook, or Twitter at the Girls Fight Back hashtag (#badassbasics).

Let's give a warm welcome to _____!
